

Flavor from Random Clockwork Models

Gero von Gersdorff

PUC-Rio, Brazil

I present a class of models where fermion mass and CKM hierarchies in the SM arise from a chain of vector-like fermions with random couplings. The relation to spontaneous localization in theory space is discussed, and I also comment on the main constraints from flavor observables.